

Text 1

QUICK BUY

Welcome to our new FLOW STORES

Quick Buy
is delighted to announce the arrival of our first ever
Flow Store<sup>1</sup>.

As soon as you register<sup>2</sup> and enter a Flow Store, a bright new world opens up. A world where shopping is no longer a chore, where buying food is a relaxing, restful experience – avoiding queues, checkouts and hassle. Just put your shopping straight into your bag!

Our new Flow Stores will open 24 hours a day and, although there will be no staff on the premises, you will be able to contact our support team<sup>3</sup> using our onsite video phone. The team will be able to view everything that happens in the shop, so you can relax in the knowledge that you are not alone.

Quick Buy is opening 100 Flow Stores nationwide this year and another 900 over the next three years. We look forward to seeing you, even if you won't see us!

<sup>1</sup> Unmanned stores with no checkout tills. Payment will be automatically taken off your credit or debit card as you leave.

<sup>2</sup> Customers can register at the start of their first visit. Just call our support team using the video phone outside your local store and give them your name, address & credit or debit card details. That's all it takes to start your shopping experience.

<sup>3</sup> Our customer service department, like our stores, will be open 24 hours a day.

Text 2

The perfect future...

...or the perfect nightmare?

Article written by Jay Hawkes

I've just been shown the future of shopping. Posh boutiques are history. Online is old hat. Old-fashioned high street shops are back!

Old-fashioned high street shops ... with one big difference. No trolley. No checkout. No staff. Walk in. Grab what you need. Leave. Your account is charged automatically. 'Walk In, Walk Out'. I had to try this! So off I went.

At the shop my details were taken and a machine gave me a store card. Essential – you can't get into the shop without waving it. And it so worked. The door whooshed open and in I went.

Testing the system, I kept my store card in my pocket and filled my shopping bag. No basket. No trolley. No scanning. The technology 'sees' what you take and adds it to your bill. Cunningly hidden cameras observe what you take and charge your account. If you put something back again, it sees that too – you won't be charged.

Then it was time to leave. I ... I just walked out! That was the oddest bit of all. I felt like a shoplifter.

But I also felt like the shop had suddenly become my kitchen cupboard. In a weird way it was 'my' shop.

A minute later, I got a message on my phone with my bill. I checked for mistakes, but it was spot on.

Consider the advantages. No more moving purchases from shelves to trolley. No more race to the cash tills, searching for the shortest queue. No more glaring at the time-waster in front. No more unloading purchases onto a conveyor belt which moves forward, or not, to suit itself. No more competition, trying to fill your bags more quickly than the cashier can scan – like two competitors racing to see who can move groceries around fastest.

Will this change the world? Maybe. Improve our lives? Maybe. In any case, we may soon not have a choice. A shop without staff is easier and cheaper to manage. Service, however impersonal, is guaranteed. I will certainly get used to it. But will I miss the personal touch? I'm not so sure.

Text 3

People's Campaign for Shopping Justice

March to Defend Jobs

NO to Flow Shops

- NO to a world where you enter your local shop through a controlled-access door.
- NO to a world where your shopping is supervised by computer-controlled cameras.
- NO to a world of complete silence.
- NO to seeing nobody.
- NO to shopping without as much as a 'hello' or 'goodbye'.

NO to the hellish vision of the future which supermarket chains want to put on every high street.

Why? So they can get rid of our jobs. That's why!

Flow shops will destroy the livelihoods of tens of thousands of families – many barely above the breadline now – all across Britain. Is that what you want, just so you can save an extra penny off a pint of milk?

People matter. We don't want a Britain run and controlled by machines.

If we don't all stand up and say NO now, who will be next?

Help us fight for our jobs before they come for yours!

March with us now. Show that enough is enough.

2.00pm on Saturday 17th in the Market Square

We're not anti-technology – we're pro-people!